About the SSC Group > Responsibility

Environment & Social responsibility

High quality and a high level of ethics

The basis of success, as well as environmental and social responsibility, starts from within. SSC's policies are clear about healthy and safe work environments, equality and terms of employment.

SSC is a reliable and responsible company, committed to delivering high quality and maintaining a high level of ethics. Marketing and sales must be conducted in a professional and earnest manner, based on quality, performance, price and service level.

SSC complies with all competition legislation and export control directives of the countries in which we operate. In certain business areas, we depend on information and products that are subject to other countries' export control directives. Commitments to suppliers and their local authorities are always carefully complied with.

SSC's prosperity is partly based on good community relations. To maintain mutual trust, SSC provides regular company updates to politicians and other decision makers.
